Comments	I oppose the application. The vestibule addition does not match the historic quality of the neighborhood. There are no other similar vestibule structures in the neighborhood. There are a variety of other ways to increase security that would match the architectural qualities of the neighborhood.

Comments	this is totally inappropriate for a mid century ranch style home in an actual historic district. PLEASE - VOTE NO. This is the kind of garbage that ruins historic districts. We have the districts for a reason. I'm writing on behalf of myself as a neighbor even though I sit on the city's Historic Preservation Commission. I spoke my official opposition in the HPC meeting.

Comments	As I understand it the owner/contractor performed construction work on an addition to an existing home, severely altering the building in question without a permit. Subsequently applied for a permit after the fact and was denied. This is an appeal which should be denied as well. The owner/contractor should have applied for the permit up front to make sure it meets standards for both safety and historic district alterations. They should also be made to remove the addition which does not conform to the standards for the historic district. Fines? There are rules and regulations citywide, but especially in those neighborhoods with historic district overlays. Letting this go just grants sanction for everyone else to flaunt the approval process.
